Poop Timeline
ca. 6000 BCE Mesopotamian farmers use manure on their crops.	ca. 1700 BCE In Persia, manure from horses provides fertilizer that enables corn to be cultivated at very high altitudes.
1596 John Hartington of England publishes a description of a flushing toilet.	1859 The first aseptic digestion plant is built in Bombay, India, to provide energy for a paper colony.
ca. 3000 BCE Indian Valley cities of Harappa and Mohenjo-daro construct complex, brick-lined sewage systems and outdoor toilets.	1865 Jan Baptist van Helmont works out that fermentable gases can arise from feces.
ca. 3000 BCE The world's first "poop bank" (feces by humans waste, goes into service in Britain, England).	1865 European settlers of the Great Plains, looking for a way to provide food for their cattle, discover that manure can be used for fertilizer.
2016 The world's first "poop bank" (feces by humans waste, goes into service in Britain, England).

EASY ORDERING

Shop the Catalog

For your convenience, and to view an even larger selection of items, shop online at www.scholastic.com/bookfairrewards. If you prefer, you may use the write-in order form on pages 95–96.

Library Processing

Shelf-Ready books are now available at checkout at www.scholastic.com/bookfairrewards. Library Processing is available for each of the hardcover books offered in our catalog. We offer a Basic Automation Kit (MACHINE-Readable Cataloging Record, a Barcode Label, Spine Label, and the option of a Reading Label). Labels will be attached to the applicable books at time of order fulfillment based on the system requirements you provide. After receiving your processed books and MARC records, simply upload the MARC records into your library system and shelve the books for students to check out! Books with library processing may not be returned and order processing time will increase by an additional 6–8 business days. Please note: we do require a minimum order of 20 kits or records. For questions regarding your school's specifications, please contact your system vendor.

Customers have an alternate option for MARC Records (MACHINE Readable Cataloging Record refers to data that can be read and interpreted by a computer) when ordering online. Complimentary MARC Record files can be available for download in your order history after your order is placed if you select this option. Please contact your system vendor for assistance with downloading your complimentary MARC Records.

Select Your Payment Method

Enclose information about one or more of the following forms of payment to satisfy your total amount due, including shipping and handling and sales tax where applicable: Scholastic Dollars™ (to be redeemed exclusively through Scholastic Book Fairs® venues), school purchase order, or school or personal check. Make checks payable to Scholastic Book Fairs. To use a credit card for payment, please order online at www.scholastic.com/bookfairrewards.

Order Fulfillment

We try very hard to keep all of our titles in stock, and most of the time we succeed. If we do run out of an item, we will ship the rest of your order to you and allow you to place another order from the catalog at your convenience. In most cases, you will receive your order within 12 to 15 business days from the date we receive your order. Please note that drop-ship items will be delivered within four to six weeks. They will be shipped separately, within the 48 contiguous United States only.

Returns

If you are not delighted with any item, you may return it for an exchange or refund within 30 days (excluding digital products and items with library processing). All merchandise must be returned in new condition with all original boxes, packing materials, documentation, and instructions. Please contact us at 1-800-799-READ to obtain return authorization.

Questions?

Call our Customer Care team to get answers to your questions about the ordering process, products in the catalog, or to obtain return authorization. We accept returns within 30 days of your order date. Please have your order number ready when you call 1-800-799-READ or email your question to catalog@scholasticbookfairs.com.
