Parents: Reading is the most important skill a child can learn.

And, like other skills, it takes practice. Our Book Fair is the place where children find and choose what they want to read. It’s the place we can demonstrate the importance of reading and motivate children to practice reading.

Support our Book Fair and help your children build a collection of books at home they can read alone … and with you. View a short video to see how your involvement can make a difference.
